To: Early Careers Graduate Recruitment Team, Lazard

Role: 2027 Summer Internship — Financial Advisory / M&A (London)

Date: 14 September 2026

Dear Hiring Team at Lazard,

I am writing to express my strong enthusiasm for the 2027 Financial Advisory Summer Internship at Lazard London. As a penultimate-year undergraduate at University College London (UCL) reading Psychology and Language Sciences (predicted First-Class Honours, current average 70.5), I combine rigorous quantitative and behavioral analysis, automated data pipeline engineering, and disciplined operational leadership developed through 18 months of military service in the Republic of Korea Army.

Lazard's distinguished legacy as the preeminent independent financial advisory firm is rooted in an unyielding commitment to intellectual honesty, bespoke client counsel, and transaction structuring unencumbered by balance-sheet conflicts. In high-stakes M&A advisory, sustainable competitive advantage demands not merely mechanistic financial modeling, but the cognitive discernment to assess human decision-making, strategic alignment, and the underlying incentives of counterparties. My academic focus on behavioral decision science and statistical methodologies, paired with rigorous data modeling, enables me to approach valuation and strategic fit with both quantitative precision and qualitative depth.

During my research fellowship at the University of Oklahoma, I architected an automated multi-agent literature evaluation pipeline in Python across 700+ complex research studies, attaining an inter-rater reliability of $\kappa = 0.98$ by engineering iterative quality-assurance controls to resolve edge-case discrepancies. Concurrently, I constructed an integrated statistical database systematically extracting effect sizes, variance metrics, and sample distributions. This experience ingrained the extreme attention to detail, evidentiary rigor, and structured synthesis required to build audit-proof DCF, LBO, and merger models in fast-paced deal environments.

Furthermore, my 18 months of mandatory military service as a Sergeant and Squad Leader in the Republic of Korea Army tested and refined my operational stamina, crisis resolution, and leadership under pressure. Leading a squad of 25+ soldiers and orchestrating food service logistics across five military units delivering 800+ daily meals without a single operational disruption instilled a standard of flawless execution, accountability, and team cohesion that directly parallels the demands of Lazard's deal teams.

I am eager to bring my quantitative work ethic, behavioral insights, and high-standard resilience to Lazard's London Financial Advisory practice. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Kyubin Yun
